U. S. Ready to Let Ships Use Suez Canal

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON — The United States is now about ready to allow American ships to pass through the Suez Canal under protest against Egypt's operating arrangements.

Top officials who disclosed this today predicted such a go-ahead would pay tolls direct to the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority.

The government move would follow earlier State Department advice that American ships keep away from the canal until physical and negotiating hazards involved in reopening the waterway had been overcome.

Some American commercial ships are reported already approaching the canal, anticipating that the government will lift the ban within a few days even though Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser has refused to meet Western terms for operating the waterway.

The new American government attitude, officials said, would be made known about the time the Eisenhower administration officially informs the "United Nations" of its position. The move would be expected to be made to the Security Council sometime this week. It will make clear the United States hope that further talks with Egypt will be held on the nine-month dispute which touched off fighting last October.

Woman Testifies in Fatal Shooting

HOT SPRINGS — An attractive New Orleans woman testified yesterday that a former night club operator fatally shot a tavern operator in his nearly empty bar here early last Saturday.

Loreta James, 20, was one of four prosecution witnesses heard by an overflow crowd in municipal court.

She identified James Jones, 36, as the man who shot George W. Stockton.

Jones charged with first degree murder, was bound over to the Garland County Grand Jury without bond. He did not testify.

Both Mrs. James and Leroy Hurs, a Hot Springs taxi driver, testified that Jones had threatened them.

Jones has denied any knowledge of the shooting.

Judge M. C. Lewis Jr., set bond for Mrs. James and Hurs as material witnesses.

The cab driver testified he drove Jones to Stockton's Flamingo Club before the shooting and to a Hot Springs address afterwards.

TO CONTRACT LAST LEG ON BENTON-SPA ROAD

LITTLE ROCK — Highway Director Herbert Eldridge says a contract to be awarded at the three miles of a new highway between Benton and Hot Springs will be let May 1.

The Highway Commission will not let contracts for bridges on the new link until later, Eldridge said. The new section will enter the city limits of Hot Springs.

Eldridge said the grading contract will be among 10 to 15 other contracts to be awarded at the May 1 commission meeting.

NLR Attorney to Seek Mayor's Job

NORTH LITTLE ROCK — City Attorney Reed W. Thompson announced yesterday he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor.

He became the third person to announce for the post.

Mayor A. C. Perry plans to run for a third term, the other candidate is William F. Leman, a long time member of the North Little Rock school board.

Production of Crude Oil on Increase

TULSA, Okla. — Arkansas production of crude oil and condensate averaged 83,550 barrels a day last week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

The figure represents an average daily increase of 50 barrels over the week before.

Nationwide, average daily production declined 157,175 barrels to 7,474,225 barrels, the magazine's survey showed.

A big drop in Oklahoma production, 93,800 barrels to 602,800 barrels, was the principal factor in the heavy loss. The Journal explained this was due more to a "very high and very unusual total" in its figures for the state the previous week rather than to a reduced allowable.

Texas production also fell, 36,275 barrels to 3,205,250 barrels.

City Manager Answers Only to Elected Board

Advocates of the City Manager form of government have had numerous inquiries as to just what type of man city directors would hire as a city manager. What type of man would the City of Hope need?

Usually, the first time a voter hears about the Council Manager system, he occasionally jumps to the conclusion that the plan for one-man rule of the city... a dictatorship.

This is nonsense (sometimes circulated to discredit the plan). The truth is that the manager is the servant of the council, which can discharge him at will. He must come to the council for authority to make changes and for the funds to pay the costs.

The city manager is a professional. He should not be expected to have divine wisdom but he generally possesses talent, experience, the ability to work hard and a desire to get ahead in his career. Good city managers are rewarded with higher pay and bigger jobs.

City Councils demand experienced men and they can and do get them. In 1954 they selected out-of-town managers in 75% of the cases — proof of their freedom from political and patronage considerations, especially when it is remembered that the manager's job is always the top salaried job.

Most managers belong to the International City Manager's Association, which has developed a code of ethics, conducts research activities, publishes a monthly magazine, and supplies correspondence courses to help managers provide still better government, thus the plan gains materially by the fact that managers profit from each others' experience.

The most effective way for people to get a firm grip on the government organization is by putting in the city hall a policy-making council of citizens who will appoint a professional administrator who has the skill and training to carry out their policies under council supervision. Democracy cannot work unless the administrators know how to do the people's work.

It was pointed out that because the manager is appointed, not elected, he is far less likely to have political obligations which will affect the quality of his administration. Rather, self-interest must influence him to do a good job because his appointment and advancement depend directly on his record in office.

Survey Shows What Dad Has Always Known

BERKELEY, Calif. — Dad always suspected it. Now a survey has confirmed it: Now a survey has confirmed it: money-wise, a high school pupil is very much in the chips.

In fact, a survey of the 2,600 in Berkeley High School indicates they have a combined annual buying power of around $900,000.

The survey, directed by Dr. Manville R. Petleys in this city housing the University of California, came up with these tidbits:

Average income was $1338.84 during 1956. Part came from allowances ranging from 1 to $17.50 a week. Part came from wages and salaries.

Most of the 2,000 got allowances. But most of them also did part-time work.

More than a third received allowances from $1 to $2 a week; 30 per cent got $2 to $3; 25 per cent got $4 to $5; the remainder got 6 to $17.50.

Four out of five worked at least part time. Half worked all year.

Senate Group Quickly Okays Postoffice Bill

WASHINGTON — The Senate quickly passed and sent back to the House today a money bill carrying 41 million dollars to restore normal postal services.

The Senate took up the measure as soon as it met today and passed it by voice vote without any debate. The Senate Appropriations Committee had approved it unanimously at a 10-minute session shortly before.

The senators did not take the opportunity either to lambast or defend Postmaster General Sumnerfield. The House spent several hours doing so yesterday afternoon before passing the measure.

The administration had asked for 47 millions to carry the department through the remaining 2½ months of this bookkeeping year, but Republican congressional leaders said President Eisenhower is willing to settle for the 41 millions voted by the House yesterday.

They reported that after the weekly legislative conference at the White House, saying Eisenhower "recognizes the very practical problems involved."

Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) of the Senate committee said he would try to call the measure up early this afternoon for expected quick passage.

However, the bill will have to go back to the House because the Senate Appropriations Committee added to it $800,000 for Senate investigations and other house-keeping items.

That is all but certain to be only a formality, however, since neither branch questions such allotments for the other. The $800,000 for Senate activities was the only change made by the Senate committee.

Eisenhower's attitude 3rd graf m89

WASHINGTON — Republican congressional leaders reported today that President Eisenhower is willing to settle for 41 million dollars in additional funds for the Post Office Department.

The administration requested 47 million but the key party men from the Capitol said Eisenhower "recognizes the very practical problems involved."

Eisenhower's attitude was outlined to newsmen by Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California and House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts after their regular Tuesday morning conference with Eisenhower.

The call for emergency money to restore normal mail operations was discussed as the Senate made ready to act quickly on the 41-million-dollar appropriation measure approved by the House yesterday.

Knowland told a news conference at the White House that he looks for the Senate to get the bill to Eisenhower's desk either tonight or tomorrow morning.

In addition to the postal money, the bill passed by the House provides 481 million dollars for other purposes.

Both Knowland and Martin expressed belief that the bitterness stirred up in Congress over the post office request for additional money and curtailment of mail deliveries last weekend won't jeopardize the administration's chance for winning congressional approval of an increase in postal rates. However, prospects for such a rate hike this year appear dim.

WASHINGTON — The Senate prepared today to act quickly on 41 million dollars of additional Post Office funds. The House passed the bill to restore normal postal service yesterday.

There was a prospect the deficiency measure could reach President Eisenhower's desk late in the day.

In addition to the extra money for the Post Office Department, the bill would provide 481 million dollars for other purposes.

The House sent the bill to the Senate by voice vote late yesterday after several hours of debate during which some of the lawmakers criticized Postmaster General Sumnerfield for ordering service curtailed.

No effort was made in the House to increase the postal money to the 47 million dollars Sumnerfield has said he must have for the next 2½ months. Two efforts to reduce it to 19 millions were defeated decisively, one by a 121-12 standing vote and one by voice votes.

It appeared that the Senate also would go along with the 41 million dollar figure.

Several senators said they assumed that if the bill goes to Eisenhower today or tomorrow, the major postal service cuts already in effect will be reversed.

These cuts were elimination of Saturday home deliveries and the closing to the public of all but fourth class post offices on that

Parents Asked to Help Children Select Subjects

Bolar Returns From Forestry Meeting

Max Bolar returned Saturday from the University of Georgia at Athens, where for the past week he has been a forestry instructor for Soil Conservation Service trainees. This course is given regularly to sub-professional personnel of SCS by the staff foresters from each of the ten states of the southeastern region. Trainees from Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, as well as loan students from Central and South America attend these classes in forestry.

Pre-classification of High School students is now underway here and the program is designed to help students, with aid of their parents, select subject which will be more beneficial in selecting careers, Principal Julius Adams said today.

Although a majority of students haven't decided on occupational fields and possibly won't in high school, it is suggested by school officials that subjects be carefully selected to give them a basic foundation in the more important studies.

In other words many students take the required courses and fill the rest of their schedules throughout high school with the easiest subjects they can get by on.

Later when they do choose a definite field they find themselves seriously handicapped by lack of basic knowledge they could have gotten in high school.

So parents are asked to go over the list of subjects with their children with an eye to the future. There are required subjects in every grade and all required subjects which are failed must be made up. All students in the 9th and 10th grades must take Physical Education, Glee Club or Band. Five units may be carried by students having a general average of "B" and approval of the Principal.

Subjects offered:

Ninth Grade: *English 1, *Civics, *General Science, *Algebra 1, General Math, Latin 1, Spanish 1, Band, Glee Club, Physical Education, Driver Education.

Tenth Grade: *English 1, *World History, Plane Geometry, Biology, Agriculture 1, Latin 1 or 11, Spanish 1 or 11, Band, Glee Club, Physical Education and Driver Education.

Eleventh Grade: *English 11, *American History, Algebra II, Chemistry, Physics, Journalism, Typing 1, Shorthand 1, Bookkeeping, Business Arithmetic, Speech, Home Economics 1, 11, Agriculture 1 or 11, Band, Glee Club, Physical Education.

Twelfth Grade: *English IV, Business English, Government, World Geography, Algebra II, Solid Geometry/Trigonometry, Chemistry, Physics, Business Arithmetic, Bookkeeping, Speech, Journalism, Home Economics 1-11, *Office Practice (2 credits), Band, Glee Club and Physical Education.

Brother of Hope Women Succumbs

A. J. Jones, aged 66, died Monday in a Chicago hospital. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Stella Jones, two sisters of Hope, Mrs. Don Smith and Miss Bula Jones.

The body will arrive here at 1:40 p. m. Wednesday. Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Wednesday at Henry-on-Cornelius Chapel by the Rev. Virgil D. Keeley. Burial will be in Memory Gardens.

The new Cabinet is expected to press a swift and thorough cleanup of Red elements that have infiltrated public agencies.

Observers also looked for King Hussein—flushed with his military victory over leftist leaders—to invite James P. Richards, President Eisenhower's special envoy, to Amman to explain the President's Middle East doctrine.

There was no clear indication, however, that Jordan would subscribe to the American plan aimed at halting Communist penetration of the Middle East.

With the formation of a regime purged of Communists and extremists, Hussein emerged from the six-day crisis with new strength and stature. A dramatic display of loyalty by Arab Legion troops of the Arab Legion turned the tide.

The Bedouins swarmed into the capital yesterday from strategic positions surrounding Amman. Security police loyal to the young monarch also were out in force with riot equipment.

Bolstered by this support, Hussein summoned all former prime ministers, senators and some deputies to the palace. They emerged after three hours with a seven-man government headed by Hussein Fakhri Khalidi, 61-year-old former foreign minister who has shown sympathies toward the West.

Sworn in with him were five other moderates. The seventh Cabinet member is Suleiman Nabulsi, head of the big National Socialist party and premier of the anti-Western government Hussein threw out last week.

SUFFOCATES

MOUNTAIN HOME, (UP) — The body of a 23-year-old Mountain Home man, Bobby Gene Foster, was found in his car about six miles east of here yesterday.

Sherriff Jack Gregory said Foster, who had been missing since Saturday, apparently died of suffocation.

Gregory said the car contained several buckets of burned wood. The windows of the car were shut.

Funeral Dr. Walter Galtner said an autopsy would be performed.

Cotton Group Wants Bale Allotment

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — The Mid-South Cotton Growers Association has proposed a new cotton program based on bale production allotments instead of the present acreage allotments.

Hobson Vandiver, the association's general manager, says "that cotton producers may as well face the bitter fact that acreage allotments, with agricultural technology what it is today, will not solve the surplus problem."

"The present cotton program, coupled with the soil bank, is drying up the small towns of the south, reducing the employment of farm laborers and thus having an adverse effect on the economy of the entire union."

"The association represents 87,000 growers in Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri, Mississippi and Louisiana."

Later when they do choose a definite field they find themselves seriously handicapped by lack of basic knowledge they could have gotten in high school.

So parents are asked to go over the list of subjects with their children with an eye to the future. Pine Bluff Hikes Waterworks Tax

PINE BLUFF, (UP) — The Pine Bluff City Council last night voted in a higher utility tax. The General Waterworks Corporation franchise tax was increased from $13,000 to $20,000, Wilton Steed, city attorney, said the increase was agreed to by the company.

"I'd like to start something like Boys' Town," he said. "The center could be a clearing house for former convicts and parolees needing work. Most men just out of prison are eager to work, to do anything to get back on their feet—but too often they don't get a chance."

After his return, he was sent to the federal reformatory at Englewood. He was 12.

He was paroled in 1949 at 13 and returned to Duncan, where he went to work for an electrical company.

Later he became an apprentice with the Bricklayers Union at Lawton and in 1952 founded his own company.

Phillips said he hopes to show prison inmates they can return to "outside" life and become useful citizens. And he has a further dream.

Beck Threatens to 'Blow Lid Off U. S. Senate'

By MAX SKELTON

GALVESTON, Tex. — Dave Beck, who said he would "blow the lid right off the Senate" if he told what happened to union funds, met privately today with the Teamsters Union Executive Committee and five labor attorneys.

The Teamster chief also told reporters yesterday "a lot of fine people would be embarrassed" if he told what he knew. He added he was "taking the rap" while refusing to answer questions at the recent Senate committee hearings in Washington.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee before which Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment, when informed of Beck's "blow the lid off" statement, told reporters in Washington:

"Mr. Beck very likely will have another opportunity to come before this committee to testify."

McClellan said he wanted to read the statement before commenting further.

Beck called the conference amid conflicting reports the committee would back him to the man or would attempt to strip him of his tight-fisted control over one of the world's largest labor unions.

The 62-year-old Beck, accused of using $320,000 in union funds for personal projects, made it clear he has no plans of stepping aside voluntarily.

"I'm not planning to retire although I would be money ahead if I did," he said. He offered no explanation but apparently had in mind the $50,000-a-year pension—the same as his current salary—he reportedly would receive upon retirement.

Phillips, head of a rapidly growing company he started here five years ago, hires only former prison inmates like himself. He estimates he has employed 400 to 500 parolees or former convicts. He has helped many others by finding them jobs.

Phillips, married and the father of two young sons, is an active member of the Westside Baptist Church.

The young contractor said more than a third of his life has been spent in state and federal reformatories.

After his parents separated, he ran away from home at Duncan, Okla., when he was 7. Picked up in Albuquerque, N. M., he was sent to a training school in Oklahoma.

While at the Stringtown Training School, he said, he learned his mother was ill and when prison officials refused permission for him to visit her, he escaped. His mother persuaded him to return voluntarily.

After his return, he was sent to the federal reformatory at Englewood. He was 12.

Full Story About Norman a Secret

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Silence has suddenly descended over the name and memory of E. Herbert Norman, the Canadian ambassador to Egypt who killed himself after he was named as a Communist in a Senate subcommittee hearing.

But the confusion continues. It still has not been clearly established: (1) that he was a Communist; (2) that he killed himself as a result of publication of the hearings, although the events followed close by; or (3) that the full contents of his suicide notes have been made public.

Canada's foreign secretary, Lester B. Pearson, has been less than completely frank. At first he said the hearings were reviving old rumors. Later he said that Norman in his youth had "Communist associations." But he refused to answer when twice asked in the Canadian Parliament if Norman had been a Communist.

Meanwhile, the State Department and the Internal Security subcommittee, each trying to blame the other for releasing the information on Norman, presented a curious spectacle to Canadians already bitter about Norman's death.

The subcommittee never has explained why it handled as it did information dealing with a foreign diplomat.

The State Department, in trying to disown any responsibility for release of the hearing testimony, has been less than convincing.

It said he would not have released the record unless (1) the State Department approved and (2) all the members of the subcommittee approved. Eight of the nine members approved. The ninth was ill in a hospital.

Eastland said the State Department approved. Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), a subcommittee member, said he had had misgivings and didn't sign until, after being told by the subcommittee staff that the State Department approved, he himself checked with the department and got the same answer.

Morris said the clearance was obtained from Robert Cartwright, acting security chief of the State Department. Cartwright had sat through the March 12 hearings and heard what Emmerson and Morris said about Norman.

The State Department, without mentioning Cartwright by name, said he had no authority to approve the release of the hearings without consulting a higher ranking political officer in the department.

The department further denied it had agreed to publication of the hearings. It explained that Cartwright "did indicate" to the subcommittee the department would have no objection to the publication of the testimony of Emmerson.

Then the department added this: Apparently the subcommittee interpreted Cartwright's comments as "meaning that the State Department had no objections to the release of the entire transcript, which contained derogatory information about a Canadian official."

That's a pretty thin effort to get out of responsibility for release of the whole record. If Cartwright didn't want the derogatory information on Norman released, he could have said so but, apparently didn't.

Further: deleting reference to Norman would have made the record look silly since his name ran through the last half of the 34 pages, with Morris accusing and Emmerson defending.

'Attack' Shows Side of War Untouched in Many Years

"Attack!" which opens Wednesday at the Saenger theater through United Artists release, is high-powered entertainment in the fullest sense of the word. For this picture, which concerns a company trapped by the Germans during the Battle of the Bulge in World War II, tells a side of the war which hasn't been touched in a decade.

Boasting a superb cast headed by Jack Palance and Eddie Albert, with Lee Marvin, Robert Strauss, Richard Jaeckel, Buddy Ebsen, and a newcomer who makes an auspicious film debut in "Attack," William Smithers, the picture shows that not all men are heroes — especially during the height of battle.

To say that Captain Cooney, brilliantly played by Eddie Albert, is not a hero is to understate the case. He is an abject, psychopathic coward who has a record of exposing his company to danger, and in fact being responsible for the death of many men. Sergeant Costa, portrayed by Jack Palance in one of the screen's most powerful performances, a man dedicated to seeing that Cooney kills no more men through his cowardice.

There are many great and memorable portrayals among the other characters in "Attack," all of whom contribute to make this a strong, truthful and violent picture of World War II as it was fought.

Fire Ant Reported in El Dorado Area

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The state plant board said today that a 12-mile area in the vicinity of El Dorado is infested with the fire ant.

Carter Seymour, head of the nursery and plant division, said a survey just completed located the fire ant in isolated spots of El Dorado, and an area starting at the El Dorado city limits and extending four miles west, one mile north of the highway, and two miles south.

Seymour said the fire ant is considered a serious pest of field crops, gardens and lawns, and has been known to render pasture land up to 90 per cent ineffective. He said the ant in pastures work up from 100 to 150 mounds per acre, and make it difficult to feed cattle because of ant bites. He said the ants have been known to kill small livestock, such as calves.

The ant came into the United States about 35 years ago from South America. It has spread throughout parts of the southern United States, Seymour said. The spreading of the ant is trying to be halted by disinfecting nursery stock.

He said farmers find the pest can be killed by using dieldrin or heptachlor.

ESD Upheld in Delaying Information

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court with one dissent today upheld the authority of the Employment Security Division to require a delay in the furnishing of certain information on claims for unemployment compensation.

The decision reversed Pulaski Chancery Court, Second Division, which had held that the delay imposed by Administrator J.L. Bland was unreasonable.

On Nov. 1, 1955, the ESD laid down a rule that an employer or his representative would be given the information necessary to handling of any claim against him only after 24-hour advance notification.

The rule was attacked by J. Gayle Windsor Jr., head of the Windsor Audit Co., which represents more than 100 employers subject to the Employment Security Act.

Before the rule was adopted, the Supreme Court opinion said, Windsor had been furnished daily as a matter of routine a list of all claims filed against his clients.

Chancellor Cy E. Williams agreed with Windsor that the rule was unreasonable and enjoined its enforcement.

A Supreme Court majority said it did not think the rule was unreasonable but instead was justified by a provision of the law giving the administration authority to set up regulations not inconsistent with the law. The injunction was set aside.

The majority opinion was written by Associate Justice Sam Robinson.

Associate Justice Ed F. McFadden dissented, but did not issue a written opinion.

Spring Weather May Be Coming

By The Associated Press

Warmer, more springlike weather was in the works today from the Great Plains to the Atlantic and mostly fair skies prevailed east of the Mississippi River.

Mostly cloudy skies were indicated for the plains states with scattered showers forecast for the extreme northern and southern fringes of the area.

The far Southwest and southern Pacific Coast was expected to be generally fair.

Scattered showers were in the works for most of the Pacific Northwest and the central Rocky Mountains.

POLICEMAN DISMISSED
LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Patrolman J. R. Gan, 30, was dismissed from the Little Rock Police Force yesterday for drinking on duty.

Police Chief Marvin H. Potts said Gan has 10 days from last Friday in which to file an appeal to the Civil Service commission.

Gan, a member of Mayor Woodrow Mann's now defunct anti-gambling squad, was suspended from the force in January for "conduct unbecoming a police officer."

In the House debate on the bill, Chairman Caphon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee accused Sumnerfield of "a public be damned attitude" in losing post offices last Saturday. He said that if Congress bowed to the postmaster-general's demand for more money, it would encourage other departments to resist cuts made in their budgets.

Mrs. Carlton Samuel opened the meeting with the devotion, and Mrs. Roy Burke, President, presided over the business session. Newly elected officers for the year 1937-38 are: Mrs. Roy Burke, president; Mrs. James Burke, vice-president; Mrs. Willis Samuel, secretary; Mrs. J. M. Arnold, Treasurer.

It was announced that Mrs. Horace Urey of DeQueen would be guest speaker of the club in May, and will present a most informative demonstration on Flower Arranging.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Richard Arnold, program chairman, gave a talk on, "Flower Arrangements for the Church." Mrs. Jewel Burke was selected as having the most unique arrangement.

The hostesses served a delicious dessert plate with punch during the social hour.

Practical Nurses Meet
In a recent meeting in the Mayors office the Practical nurses discussed by-laws and the organization's constitution following the opening devotion and prayer by Mrs. Pansy Plumley.

The group's next meeting will be May 14. Twelve members were present at the April session.

DOROTHY DIX

Coyne Gets You Nowhere —
Make Soldier Name the Day!

Dear Dorothy Dix: Early last year I met an army man, a bachelor of 30, one year my senior. We've been dating steadily ever since. He often mentions a future together, or remarks, in the presence of others, "We intend to go there, or do this, after we're married," but he has never spoken a word about marriage to me.

MISSY
Dear Missy: It's certainly about time you got the situation clarified. At the first appropriate moment (and if one doesn't "just happen," create it), ask him when this marriage is taking place. Don't be demure. Marriage is important and the days for being coy about it are gone.

Maybe your soldier is shy; then again, he may be cautious. He seems to be approaching an age at which marriage looks good to him, but here's a wistful reluctance to the part with his bachelor standing. Therefore, it's up to you to end the suspense.

Dear Dorothy Dix: At 21 I married, more to get away from an unhappy home than because I was in love. I'm still not happy, though I guess I have everything a woman could want — adoring husband, nice home, very good in-laws and a lovely baby. My husband has his own business and is so wrapped up in it that he hasn't time for me. I quarrel with him about it, but all I get is the silent treatment.

LIBBY
Dear Libby: Does it ever occur to you that your husband's hard work is giving you all the things that make life comfortable? This is a highly competitive world, and a man in business for himself has enough of a struggle without a complaining wife.

Of course you'd like him all to yourself — what wife wouldn't? You must learn, however, that you aren't the only one in the world with problems. He has plenty.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a girl of 16 with a bad habit of smoking. I smoke when I'm mad, or have a quarrel with my boy friend, or for my nerves. My mother wants me to quit. What can I do?

TROUBLED
Dear Troubled: "Nerves" should be an unknown word at your age. Find a more congenial boy friend, so you won't quarrel so much, do a little homework on your disposition, and have Mom take you to a doctor. Some will-power will be a help, too.

Gore Vidal, author of the Broadway hit comedy, "Visit To a Small Planet," was born at the United States Military Academy in 1925. Despite this Army beginning, he was first made on a Navy transport in World War II.

cents to a dollar an hour. Some earned 1.25 an hour. Baby-sitting was the most popular job.
Now for the expenditures: 60 per cent reported the major item as clothing, an average of $39.37. Entertainment took 51.36; food $63.40.
Highest average amount for any one expenditure was for a car. Car expenses for 14 per cent of the enrollment averaged $161.91.

Uncle Sam Took His Biggest Bite

WASHINGTON (AP)—Uncle Sam takes his big tax bite today — a 60-billion-dollar levy. For the rest of the year he has to get along on nibbles.
This is the day income taxes are due. They total about 38½ billion dollars. Corporations, too, have to settle their tax accounts with the government. That comes to about 2½ billion more.

But it takes more than 60 billion dollars to run the government. The budget for the fiscal year which ends June 30 is $70,628,000,000.

On top of that, there is nearly 13 billion dollars that has to be applied to such things as the Social Security trust fund, the highway trust fund, the railroad retirement account and refunds to taxpayers.

That leaves Uncle Sam needing about 23½ billion dollars after individuals and corporations ante

Passover Begins for Jews Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Passover begins at sundown today for Jews throughout the world.
The Festival of Freedom commemorates the Hebrew Exodus from Egypt. Orthodox and conservative Jews observe the season for eight days, and Reform Jews for seven.

The first Passover supper, or Seder, will bring Jewish families together tonight. The meal consists of foods symbolic of the time of the Exodus.

In a Passover message to American Jews, Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion of Israel said yesterday he expects as many as 120,000 Jewish refugees to enter his country this year. He urged Jews to "do everything in their power" to help the refugees.

But don't feel too sorry for him. He has ways of getting it. Excess taxes, for instance, this year will net the government about 10½ billion dollars.

Every time you buy a package of cigarettes, Uncle Sam gets — cents. He gets 2 cents on the average cigar.

You may not notice it, but the government collects 2 cents for every 1,000 matches sold — 5½ cents if they have "fancy wooden or colored stems."

Buy a quart of beer and Uncle Sam gets 7 cents. He gets $2.10 on a bottle fifth of whiskey.

Most excise taxes are hidden in the price you pay for things because they're collected from the manufacturer. He pays it — and passes the cost along to you.

On jewelry, furs, toilet preparations and luggage (including handbags and wallets), Uncle Sam nicks you for 10 per cent of the retail cost.

Those built-in taxes, generally 10 per cent of the manufacturer's selling price, are levied on a host of household items. On light bulbs alone, Uncle Sam figures to take in 24 million dollars this year.

Police Finally Got Him There

LIBERTY, Mo., (AP)—Bama, one forget to tell the police exact that the Bishop was Methodist.

The event was arranged for the 15-mile trip from Kansas City to Liberty when Bishop Eugene M. Franks plans land at Kansas City behind schedule.

The escorting patrolman, told only that Frank was a bishop, led the caravan to St. James Catholic Church, seven on blocks from Liberty Methodist.

The wrong turn was soon righted and the St. Louis bishop pulled up in time for the service in his honor.

Hussein Coup Leaves Nasser Out on Limb

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's President Nasser faces the fight of his political life to retain leadership of the Arab world after King Hussein's coup in Jordan.

Hussein's overthrow of pro-Egyptian elements represents a major break in the so-called "free Arab" front—a grouping of states who oppose the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact and formal Arab ties with the West. The group is composed of Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

Winning Jordan over to this Arab clique had been one of Nasser's signal victories over the West of the past two years.

He achieved this through the ouster of Gen. Sir John Bagot Glubb, British founder of the Arab Legion and the termination of the British-Jordan treaty.

Nasser was unchallenged leader of the Arab group and for a time had all the other Arab governments on the defensive in the face of a wave of anti-Western nationalism sponsored by Cairo.

Nasser reached his peak of in-

It was hardly the moment, thought Allan, to disillusion the honest Jules of his evident belief that Seknou would henceforward be a wholly independent state, perhaps under Allan himself as Sultan. The best to be hoped for at the moment was that de la Meziere would not insist on a complete conference of explanation here and now.

"Before we discuss details, Monsieur Fernand, of our future arrangements, I want first to be assured that your men are on their way to their homes, and then to be taken to the Gendarmerie. Can you give the first assurance?"

"I can promise you that the men will go home as soon as I say the word," said Jules. "They have accepted my command; but they are anxious to see Colonel Larg in person. The men are waiting near the hospital to see Colonel Larg. I hope that he will not refuse to speak to them."

It was fairly obvious that de la Meziere and Jules had each a different conception of the situation, and of the position of Allan himself. Whether Georges had injected some subtle nuance into what he had said; or whether Jules was deliberately misunderstanding the terms which had been made: Jules was deliberately paying more respect to Allan than to de la Meziere. Allan ventured to say rapidly to de la Meziere:

"Let me speak to them; I know what's worrying you, and I won't say anything silly."

"Very well, then," said de la Meziere.

To the south of the hotel, where the road ran out into open country, stood a little hillock; and around it were ranged several hundred Seknouais fighting men. To this hillock Jules led Allan; and behind them Allan could hear the eager voice of Georges chattering away to the other notables, while de la Meziere talked in courtly, measured tones to Ruhi ben Ishak. The warriors gazed at Allan with unconcealed curiosity. They were awed and silent, but there was no mistaking that their mood was one of almost superstitious reverence, or that they were prepared to accept him as the rightful head of their clan. They were every conceivable lan at the Gendarmerie door signed by Georges to say that they were all in the hotel, and would be happy to see Allan. They suggested that he bring Mollie too.

"I suppose we're free to mingle with them now," said Allan. "I don't suppose de la Meziere or anybody else would try to persuade us now that they're not nice to know," as poor Billon felt he had to. I'll send a line to say that well both be over later."

Jules and Georges and the other notables were crowding round him and shaking his hand. He longed to hurry to the Gendarmerie, but their way was impeded by the crowd breaking its ranks and thronging about him. Old gray-beards easily recognisable as the community bosses, were making speeches at him, which Jules and Georges were good-humoredly translating in abbreviated forms.

But Allan could wait no longer to go and see Mollie, and said as much to Jules. Jules lifted up his voice and shouted out something in Berber. At that the crowd parted a little, but it was fully obvious that the crowd intended to come and see Mollie too. With Allan and de la Meziere and the notables in the center, the whole mob moved along the road toward the Gendarmerie, capering as it went. So much had the temper of the people changed that they displayed neither fears nor resentment.

From that moment the shadows of the fighting dropped away; and at that moment also Brisebarre appeared on the balcony, sized up the temper of the crowd, saw Allan, waved, and slipped out of sight.

A minute later, Allan and Mollie, oblivious to everyone around them, were in each others arms. If Allan was aware of Brisebarre and de la Meziere shaking hands with each other beside him, he gave no sign of it; and he asked nobody's permission when he led Mollie out into the garden, past the office door.

"What on earth have you been up to?" asked Mollie at last. "And how on earth have you managed to stage a triumphal entry?"

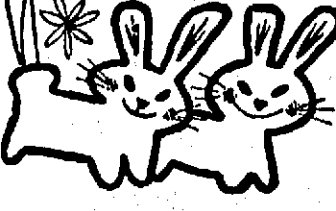

"It's a long story. I must tell it to you some time, but not now. The main thing is that everything is over, pretty well, bar shouting, and turned out better than I could ever have dreamed."

It was 1 o'clock in the morning. Allan and Mollie were lingering over breakfast in the Gendarmerie garden; they had plenty to tell each other. De la Meziere and Brisebarre were closeted in Billon's office. The French soldiers had just marched up from the beach, and had relieved the police sentries on the balcony and at the barricades. The police sentries were sitting about in their barrack rooms, discussing loudly and without undue modesty the events of the siege. In the road, although most of the Seknouais had vanished, unusually large crowds. The notables had vanished, but a note had been handed in for Al-

'Man's Game' Subject of TV Program

NEW YORK (AP)—Since there's no rule against a girl playing in major league baseball, Nanette Fabray will pitch the season off to a good start this week through strictly on television, you understand.

The occasion is next Tuesday night, when Miss Fabray stars in a semiregular comedy entitled "A Man's Game" on Aluminum Hour (NBC-TV).

Watching her in rehearsal as she gives the old Joe E. Brown wind-up, you would easily vote her the comedienne most likely to succeed in television major league baseball this season.

"Leo Durocher has been coaching me," she said, "and I've been practicing until my arm is sore. But I'll probably get hundreds of letters complaining about my pitching form. —But one thing I know. I will not, will not, will not drop the ball."

She dances as well as pitches in "A Man's Game," which concerns the sister of a boy who is scouted by the big leagues as a catcher. When the sister pitches to him, the scouts decide they've found a great pitch, not rather than the catcher they were hunting.

It appears, however, that Miss Fabray will have a short-lived career in the big leagues. This comely girl, who radiates as much energy as the morning sun, simply has too many things in the offing to confine herself to baseball.

For one thing and really the only matter she wants to talk about these days she will soon be married to Harold MacDougall, a writer whom she worships, as befitting a first son in a Scots clan.

For another thing, NBC is expected soon to affix its corporate signature to a contract which will star Miss Fabray next season in a filmed weekly situation comedy series. What is it about?

"It never does justice to comedy to say that it's 'about in a sentence,' she said. "But the basic situation is that I'm in charge of a floral shop that's the gathering place for the neighborhood."

money to buy a house so they rented one in the hills. It had been built for some scholarly character by Frank Lloyd Wright. In the living room were, by measurement, 288 feet of book shelves. I remarked that the place looked pretty bare with no books. Ralph and Frank went immediately to a second hand book store and bought 208 feet of books in assorted colors, naturally.

The most fabled of all movie-land homes was Marion Davies' beach "cottage." It had 24 bedrooms and the same number of baths. But there also were living quarters for servants, who numbered 32. Some of these servants spent their time keeping the 37 fireplaces clean. The cottage is reputed to have cost a mere 1 million dollars when built in the 20s, and the furnishings, imported from all over the world, four million.

Still a showplace — we always take visitors up summit drive in Beverly Hills to see it — is Pickfair, which Mary Pickford and Doug Fairbanks built in the 20s. It is rambling wood and stucco leaning toward colonial. The room I like best is a replica of an old western saloon. It is the only informal room in the house.

(Tomorrow: Artistic stars and others.)

When Norma Shearer and the late Irving Thalberg lived on the ocean front at Santa Monica, they had the usual appurtenances of Hollywood success — six-car garage, oversized swimming pool, projection machine recessed in the living room and the only sound-proofed, light-proofed bedroom I ever heard of.

When Norma told me about that on a visit, I used the old gee whiz approach that I'd learned in South Dakota and said I couldn't believe it. So she took me upstairs, pressed a button that rolled up some windows and slid heavy drapes over them. Then you couldn't hear the surf booming 60 yards away and you couldn't see your hand in front of you at midday.

When Ralph Blum and Frank Conroy came here in the 30s, they weren't making enough

Major Leagues Open on All Fronts Today

By JOE REICHLER
... Of The Associated Press
The sparring over the champion New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers settled down to the serious business of defending their laurels as the 1957 major league baseball season opened on all fronts today.

Weather permitting, all 16 teams, including Baltimore and Washington, which staged a sneak preview yesterday in a traditional opener in the nation's capital, were to see action. One game will be played at night, between the Dodgers and Phillies in Philadelphia.

The Orioles, who hadn't won an opener since they reentered the American League in 1954, defeated the Senators 7-6 in 11 innings.

Rookie outfielder Carl Povich drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly but the Baltimore boys were veteran catcher Gus Triandos.

He singled in two runs in the fifth inning, shot his team ahead 6-5 with a two-run homer in the seventh, and added a double after Povich had scored Dick Williams with his game-winning fly.

Billy Loes, last of four Baltimore pitchers, was credited with the victory. —The defeat was charged to Camilo Pascual, who relieved starter Bob Chalkales in the eighth. Hector Brown, Baltimore's starter, was routed by a five-run Washington attack in the fourth.

President Eisenhower lobbied two pitches toward a mass of Baltimore and Washington players in the traditional pregame ceremonies.

The Orioles meet the Boston Red Sox in Baltimore today. Left-hander Bill Wright (9-12) Manager Paul Richards' nomination to hurl against Tom Brewer (10-9).

The Senators are guests of the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium, where southpaw Chuck Stobbs (15-15) had the unenviable task of trying to stop Mickey Mantle and company. —Whitely Ford (19-6) was the choice for New York.

A pair of 20-game winners, Billy Pierce of Chicago and Herb Score of Cleveland are slated for the mound as the Indians play host to the White Sox.

Detroit sends its ace Frank Lary (21-13) against Tom Morgan at Kansas City.

The National League spotlight will be focused on Philadelphia where Brooklyn's Don Newcombe (27-7) and Robin Roberts (19-18) hook up in another of their many duels.

Milwaukee, favored to dethrone the Dodgers, opens with the Cubs in Chicago and leads off with its ace, Warren Spahn (20-11), opposed by Bob Rush (31-10).

The Cincinnati Redlegs take on the St. Louis Cardinals. Johnny Klippstein (12-11) is slated to take the mound against Herman Wehmeier (12-11).

The Pirates face a tartar in Johnny Antonelli as they oppose the New York Giants in Pittsburgh. Bob Friend (7-17) pitches for Pittsburgh.

NO PREVIEW
NEW YORK (AP)—Chilly breezes discouraged premature blossoming of Easter bonnets on 5th Avenue yesterday. In past years Palm Sunday often brought a preview of the Easter Parade. Yesterday the temperature was in the low 40s.

The United States produced more a billion collapsible metal in 1955.

Gene Austin Is Making a Comeback

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Gene Austin, who sold more records in six years than Presley, Belafonte and Como have in a lifetime combined, is making a comeback at 56.
Austin, who even came before Rudy Vallee, dropped in town the other day to visit his daughter, actress Charlotte Austin, and plug his new record.
RCA-Victor, the company he left in 1932 at the peak of his popularity, just signed him to a recording contract—his first in 25 years. His first record, "Too Late," already is climbing toward hit status.
NBC-TV is dramatizing his life on the Sunday night Playhouse series this coming Sunday.
From 1926 to 1932, Austin's records sold more than 86 million copies—a feat that has never been approached. His recording of "My Blue Heaven" sold seven million, generally regarded as the top all-time seller.
Yet Austin recalls how he had to overcome opposition to make "My Blue Heaven." Victor thought the hit tune was the one on the other side, now long forgotten.
"When we finished that other side—even the musicians left," he said, "but was determined to make 'My Blue Heaven.' We had a piano player (Austin himself) and I soon found a cellist.

"I had a lawyer friend who always had a yen to whistle a record so I called him up and told him to hurry over to the studio."
Through the years some popu-

Milk Producers Seek Soil Bank Deal

WASHINGTON The National Milk Producers Federation wants Congress to authorize the use of some of the government's soil bank money to reduce milk production.
The Agriculture Department reported last week that it will be able to save 250 million dollars in payments to farmers this year for retiring crop land.
The federation would use 75 millions of this as payments to farmers for slaughtering or exporting dairy calves which otherwise would be added to herds. Present herds are producing about 4 percent more milk than markets require.

lar music critics, explaining the fabulous success of the record, have attributed it to fancy orchestration.
"It was fancy all right," Austin says. "Even the amateur whistler didn't rehearse."
His next biggest seller was "Romona" and another was "Girl of My Dreams."
When his records started selling only a million copies—the goal of most present day singers—Austin thought he was slipping, so he retired.

How Texas Eastern helps put the "whirl" in a whirlbird

Metal helicopter parts—bearings, blades, detail parts—undergo terrific strains in flight. So they must be heat-treated with great exactness to make sure they are properly stress relieved, hardened and tempered.

Vertol Aircraft Corporation, maker of "whirlbirds" for Army, Air Force and Navy, uses gas-fired furnaces for these important heat-treating operations and for cleaning and plating, too. Gas is ideal for all these jobs because it is dependable, fast and can be easily and accurately controlled.

To make gas abundantly available in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern areas, Texas Eastern transports natural gas from the Southwest through its 5700-mile pipeline system.

TEXAS EASTERN SERVES THE COMPANIES THAT SERVE YOU

A gas atmosphere furnace, at a temperature of 1600°F., brings steel parts for Vertol helicopters to their ultimate tensile strength. Hub bearings, for instance, must be able to withstand a "pull" in flight of 55,000 lbs. from each "copier blade. Philadelphia Electric Company, a Texas Eastern customer, supplies gas to Vertol's Morton, Pa., plant.

Natural gas serves you in more ways in the home and in industry than any other fuel.
